COPYRIGHT TRANSFER

The undersigned, with the consent of all authors, hereby transfers, to the extent that there is copyright to be transferred, the exclusive copyright interest in the above cited manuscript, including the published version in any format (subsequently called the "work"), to the Division of the History of Chemistry of the American Chemical Society subject to the following (If the manuscript is not accepted by the Division of the History of Chemistry of the ACS or withdrawn prior to acceptance by the Division of the History of Chemistry of the ACS, this transfer will be null and void.):

- A. The undersigned author and all coauthors retain the right to reprint, republish, revise, adapt, prepare derivative works, present orally, or distribute or transmit, their own paper, provided that copyright credit is given to the source and the Division of the History of Chemistry of the ACS, that recipients are informed that they may not further disseminate or copy the paper, and that all such use is for the personal noncommercial benefit of the author(s) and is consistent with any prior contractual agreement between the undersigned and/or coauthors and their employer(s). Copyright credit should be of the form, "Reproduced with permission of the Division of the History of Chemistry of the American Chemical Society" followed by a complete literature citation.
- B. Where a work is prepared as a "work made for hire" for an employer, the employer(s) of the author(s) retain(s) the right to revise, adapt, prepare derivative works, publish, reprint, reproduce, and distribute the work in print format, and to transmit it on an internal, secure network for use by its employees only, and additional rights under A, provided that all such use is for the promotion of its business enterprise and does not imply endorsement by the Division of the History of Chemistry of the ACS.
- C. Whenever the Division of the History of Chemistry of the American Chemical Society is approached by third parties for individual permission to use, reprint, or republish specified articles (except for classroom use, library reserve, or to reprint in a collective work) the undersigned author's or employer's permission will also be required.
- D. No proprietary right other than copyright is claimed by the Division of the History of Chemistry of the American Chemical Society.
- E. For works prepared under U.S. Government contract or by employees of a foreign government or its instrumentalities, the Division of the History of Chemistry of the American Chemical Society recognizes that government's prior nonexclusive, royalty-free license to publish, translate, reproduce, use, or dispose of the published form of the work, or allow others to do so for noncommercial government purposes. Your contract number: _____
- F. The Division of the History of Chemistry of the ACS reserves the right to use on the publication cover all figures submitted with the manuscript.

AS A WORK OF THE U.S. GOVERNMENT

I certify that ALL authors are or were bona fide officers or employees of the U.S. Government when the paper was prepared, and that the work is a "work of the U.S. Government" (prepared by an officer/employee of the U.S. Government as part of official duties), and, therefore, it is not subject to U.S. copyright. (This section should NOT be signed if the work was prepared under a government contract or coauthored by a non-U.S. Government employee.)
